

LO's Got Talent!

K-12 talent in music, art, dance, stage, photography, video and more!

LACEY DOBY

Lacey is a thirteen-year-old eighth grader at Lake Oswego Junior High. Lacey is a talented singer, actress, cellist and pencil sketch artist. "Lacey exemplifies Lake Oswego's commitment to arts education. She has taken advantage of the opportunities that the school district offers to grow and hone her many talents. She is hard working, focused, positive and creative," said her drama teacher, Joe Theissen. Lacey is pursuing her talent with the LOJ orchestra, LOJ musical theater productions and drama classes at school. She is also taking private cello lessons. She played the role of "Belle" in this year's production of "Beauty and the Beast." She has been selected to the 2010 all-state middle school honor orchestra. Lacey also enjoys writing novels.

CATHERINE YOUN

Catherine is a nine-year-old third grader at Oak Creek Elementary School. "Catherine is a talented pianist and has been performing piano at an extremely advanced level since she came to Oak Creek," said her music teacher, Ben Haynor. She has performed many times in class and at talent shows. She was a soloist at the 2009 Ten Grands Concert and recently was a solo performer at all four of the Ten Grands for Kids concerts at the Arlene Schnitzer Concert Hall April 1 and 2. "Her skill level on the piano is unmatched by any student I've ever had before. Her understanding of tone, timing, feel, balance, etc. is at a very high level," continued Haynor.

ZANE SPARLING

Zane is a seventeen-year-old junior at Lake Oswego High School. Zane is multi-talented. He plays guitar, drums and writes a weekly column in the Lake Oswego Review. "Zane has a great attitude and is open to learning new styles of music. He is also a clever entertaining columnist," said his guitar instructor, Jeremy Winkler. Zane is taking private guitar lessons at Lake Music and plays his drums with his friends. "Zane is a talented individual, and his eagerness to learn and explore will serve him well in his future exploits."

Featured "Student Artist Spotlight" students will be showcased in a concert and gallery on May 13th at the LOHS auditorium. All ticket proceeds will benefit the LOSD Foundation!
